Reced
OEXA-1468

DCI

Dear Mr. Casey:

The White House Fellows appreciated very much the opportunity to meet with you at CIA. I think we all found it to be a very interesting and instructive meeting. And, we especially thank you for the candor with which you responded to the many questions.

Thank you for taking so much time from your schedule.

Sincerely yours,

M. A. Johnson-Evans
Deputy Director

The Honorable William J. Casey
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Biography of William J. Casey

William Joseph Casey was sworn in as Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) on 28 January 1981. In this position he heads the Intelligence Community (all foreign intelligence agencies of the United States) and directs the Central Intelligence Agency. He is the first DCI to be designated by the President as a Cabinet officer.

Mr. Casey grew up in Long Island and New York, New York, and graduated from Fordham University, where he earned a one-year fellowship to the Catholic University School of Social Work in Washington, D.C. He then graduated from St. John's University School of Law in Brooklyn and was admitted to the New York Bar.

Following law school, he joined the Research Institute of America, rising to become chairman of the Institute's board of editors. He was commissioned in the U.S. Naval Reserve in 1943, joining the wartime staff of William Donovan, founder of the Office of Strategic Studies. Assigned to the European Theater, Mr. Casey received the Bronze Star for his work in coordinating French Resistance forces in support of the invasion of Normandy and liberation of France. Later, in 1944, he became Chief of American Secret Intelligence operations in Europe.

In 1948 he served as Associate General Counsel at the European Headquarters of the Marshall Plan. Between 1949 and 1971 he practiced law and engaged in various publishing and entrepreneurial activities in New York City.

In April 1971 Mr. Casey was designated Chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission where he served until February 1973. He subsequently became Under Secretary of State for Economic Affairs and President and Chairman of the Export-Import Bank of the United States. Returning to private life, he became Counsel to the New York and Washington law firm of Rogers and Wells.

During 1980 Mr. Casey managed the successful primary and election campaigns of President Ronald Reagan.

Mr. Casey has authored a number of books on legal and financial subjects, as well as a history of the American Revolution.

He has received the William J. Donovan Award and honorary degrees from Fordham University, St. John's University, Chung Ang University, Molloy College and Adelphi University.

Mr. Casey and his wife Sophia (nee Kurz) have one daughter, Bernadette.
